A gallery hunt

Big Hint: An anchor symbol placed next to an art object tells you there is a boat in there somewhere! These aren't the only boats. Can you find the ones that are not marked?

Find the boats using these clues.

1. Before there were planes, trucks, and trains, there were boats. This Egyptian boat is thousands of years old and looks like a toy.

Hint: Look in Classic Court

2. This little blue salt boat looks like a boat, but it sure won't float!

Hint: Look in Upper Glass Gallery

3. To find these sailboats, pale in the fog, travel through Africa to Gallery 7.

4. This picture of sailboats might remind you of a nice summer day on Lake Erie.

Hint: Look in Gallery 35

5. This painting is full of boats—a tall ship, gondolas, and sailboats with oars. How many boats do you see?

Hint: Look in Gallery 33

6. Venice is a city with water for highways, where special boats called gondolas take the place of trucks. These gondolas are making early morning deliveries.

for the family!

7. Imaginary creatures are front and center in this picture, but if you look across the bridge and into the fog, you can see the boats on the bay.

Hint: Look in Gallery 27

8. What a nice summer day! How about paddling across the lake to visit the lady and her baby who live in the teepee?

Hint: Look in Gallery 29B

9. Maybe the children looking down are thinking of Little Toot. That is surely a tugboat, and I see a flat barge and a rowboat, too.

Hint: Look in Gallery 30B

10. Boats turn up in the funniest places, don't they? You could start a nursery rhyme, "Tick, tock, see the boat rock!"

Hint: Look in Gallery 29

11. Who are they kidding? Those boats aren't going anywhere until spring!

Hint: Look in Gallery 23

12. Some people have a bird's-eye view of the handsome knight. They are in baskets at the top of masts.

Hint: Look in Gallery 19
